

SRI LANKA LAW COLLEGE NOTICE

Dress Code

As part of professional etiquette, students of Sri Lanka Law College are required to adhere to an appropriate dress code. When on Law College premises, all students must follow the following dress code policy during regular lecture hours, moot court sessions, seminars, and any other academic or professional events organized by the Law College.

- Males: Shirt (with collar) tucked-in pants, shoes (slippers, sandals, T-shirts, denims, and polo shirts are not allowed)
- Females: Dress/skirts/trousers with a blouse/kurtas/abaya or saree
and appropriate shoes (Denims are not allowed)

The Principal's Office has instructed Security Officials to ensure that students comply with the above requirements.

Your dress reflects not only on you but also on our Law College's reputation. It contributes immensely to the overall professional environment that we wish to maintain.

You are a prospective professional in our country. Thank you for your cooperation.
